I am recent graduate with comprehensive skills in various programming languages and technologies gained through part-time work and multiple internships. I am proficient in TypeScript, Java, HTML, CSS, Python, PHP, C#, C, C++, and Dart, as well as Kotlin for mobile development. With expertise in front-end development using Angular and React, I create visually appealing and responsive user interfaces. Additionally, I have experience in server-side development using JavaScript and C# (.NET), enabling me to build robust and scalable applications with Node.js and .NET frameworks. I am also well-versed in mobile app development using Dart, Kotlin, Flutter, and Android Studio frameworks, ensuring cross-platform compatibility and seamless user experiences. Furthermore, I have solid experience with WordPress for website development and possess network and system administration skills.
